

Build Better Software, Faster with Coveros and GitHub

COVEROS GITHUB HEALTH CHECK

Ensure your organization effectively implements and uses GitHub.

Getting to the right GitHub configuration for your organization is often a journey. Coveros can help guide you through that journey by reviewing your current GitHub instance, making sure it's configured to support your needs, and ensuring critical security to keep your proprietary source code and software data private.

The Coveros GitHub Health Check provides peace of mind that you have set up and are using GitHub to effectively support and enhance your software development and security goals. Coveros's GitHub experts will dive deep into your GitHub instance in order to validate it and create a plan for getting the most out of your use of GitHub.

DURING YOUR GITHUB HEALTH CHECK, COVEROS EXPERTS WILL:

- ✓ Review your current GitHub instance.
- ✓ Assess your full build and deployment processes with a focus on GitHub usage.
- ✓ Create a report on critical issues, remediation recommendations, and best practices.
- ✓ Fix our recommended remediations either through hands-on implementation or by providing support and coaching to your team.
- ✓ Develop a GitHub and development process improvement roadmap.
- ✓ Implement the improvement roadmap (usually through coaching over a period of time with a hands-on option).
- ✓ Provide continuing education and support through reevaluation and coaching office hours.
